FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

THE ALLEN GROUPE ANNOUNCES PREVENTATIVE DISINFECTING AGAINST H1N1 (SWINE FLU)

Orlando, FL, May 1, 2009—In its commitment to providing a Worry-Free Experience™, The Allen Groupe has developed and instituted a comprehensive process for protecting passengers against the transmission of H1N1 (Swine Flu). The Allen Groupe's swift response to the recent Swine Flu Outbreak has given both the Commercial & Private aviation industry a reassuring option for disinfecting and sanitizing aircraft for domestic and International flights. As news regarding the Swine Flu broke, The Allen Groupe President, David Allen, and his team quickly addressed their client base and made them aware of The Disinfectant Program™.

Mr. Allen remarked "We've been preparing programs in our company for a number of critical circumstances that could possibly come up. Fortunately, The Disinfectant Program™ was a helpful, quick response to our client's needs." The Allen Groupe's Training Manager, Zach Vardaman, has been closely watching the World Health Organization (WHO), Centers for Disease Control (CDC), and OSHA to ensure the nine- step process designed by The Allen Groupe exceeds industry standards as a front-line defense in reducing the risk for contamination.

Currently, The Allen Groupe has responded to several aircraft throughout the U.S. that needed The Disinfectant Program™ as a safety precaution. The Allen Groupe is currently located in 16 U.S. locations and 3 European locations with the ability to quickly mobilize its operations anywhere in the world.

The Allen Groupe COO, Larry Zore, is currently profiling the issue and is considering additional temporary locations for a "Port of Entry" type area for aircraft to be disinfected. "We are still gathering information from our client base in order to coordinate the best approach possible."
